TRAINING COURSE

CHLaYdoscope partners met in Koper, Slovenia in order to develop the programme for upcoming Youth Leaders Academy in Portugal, in which CHLaYdoscope participants will learn how to tackle local challenges innovatively using tools that enhance creativity and out-of-the-box thinking.

CHLaYdoscope project consortium met in Koper, Slovenia, from 15th – 19th May for the Training for trainers. During the Training, partners got to know about the local challenges of young people in Koper, such as insufficient public space for young people and how to engage young people in participation in already existing opportunities and spaces such as HEKA, art&science lab run by our hosting organisation PINA or Youth centre Koper. Since one of the biggest challenges young people face is environmental, we visited the aquarium in Piran to learn about the conditions of autochthonous species in the Gulf of Piran. Later, we had a lecture by a local artist that works on raising awareness of sound pollution of water and had an opportunity to test it in the port of Koper. After these insightful perspectives, partners defined the local challenges and methodology for the upcoming Youth Leaders Academy in Portugal in October 2023, which will give young people knowledge and skills to implement local labs for change-making in their communities. The needs of the youngsters in the region will be detected before the event so that participants can work with real examples and try to come up with solutions that include synergies with the local stakeholders. During the Youth Leaders Academy, they will learn how to tackle local challenges innovatively using tools that enhance creativity and out-of-the-box thinking. The week in Koper was a resounding success, thanks to an exchange of experiences and skills that developed an effective methodology comprising non-formal training tools and techniques aimed at community projects' planning, visioning, prototyping and implementation. The project is coordinated by Materahub (Italy) in partnership with DYPALL Network, Generazione Lucana (Italy), Warehouse Hub (Italy), ECHN (Greece), PiNA (Slovenia), and the Artist and the Others (The Netherlands). Co-funded with the support of the Italian National Agency.

OUTCOMES

- Partners had the opportunity to share best practices to tackle local challenges that they already experienced at the local level,
- All the participants increased their knowledge and understanding of local youth challenges in Koper, Slovenia, and reflected on the challenges that youngsters are facing in their local context,
- The study visits in Piran were an awareness-raising visit of environmental issues that the new generation will face,
- The partners developed a programme for Youth Leaders Academy in Portugal, in which CHLaYdoscope participants will learn how to tackle local challenges innovatively using tools that enhance creativity and out-of-the-box thinking.

To exchange skills, knowledge and methods to tackle local challenges innovatively

To provide youngsters with support and encouragement to implement local labs for change-making in their communities.

To further develop the CHLaYdoscope community

“It is important that the chosen challenges for the European Leadership Academy are proposed by people who actually live in the place where the event will take place.

Laura Sgreccia, Co-founder of WarehouseHub, Italy

“The participants of the upcoming event in Portugal will be equipped with creative tools to become future change-makers in their communities.

Andrii Sichkovskyi, cultural manager, European Creative Hubs Network, Greece

Koper, Slovenia
14th - 20th May
2023

During the CHLaYdoscope Training for trainers in Koper, partners exchanged experiences and skills that shape the development of an effective methodology comprising non-formal training tools and techniques aimed at community projects' planning, visioning, prototyping and implementation. The developed programme will be implemented in the upcoming CHLaYdoscope Youth Leaders Academy.
